

REBEL OUTRAGE IN MISSOURI.— St. Louis, Sept. 17.—The Democrat's special Leavenworth dispatch says: After the adjournment of the Platte County Radical Convention, at Platte City, Mo., on Saturday, a drunken Union soldier named Donneghan made some noise on the street and flourished a pistol about. Sheriff Ogden took his pistol away and told him to keep quiet, which he did. A short time afterward a returned rebel named Callahan, with a posse of ten men, demanded the surrender of Donneghan. A scuffle ensued and pistols were freely used, resulting in the death of three or four, and the wounding of eight or ten men. A number of the delegates who had started for their homes hearing the firing returned to town, and were fired on by Callahan's party and had several of their horses killed under them. Callahan fired twice at one delegate who was lying under his wounded horse, and was fired at in return and killed.

The latest accounts say that several hundred armed rebels hold Platte City, and have driven all the Union men out of the town, and swear they shall not return. Great excitement exists. Governor Fletcher has been applied to for a force to put down the mob. All accounts agree that Donneghan was unarmed when Callahan's party attacked him.

FIRE IN NEWBERN, N. C.—Newbern, N. C., Sept. 16.—A fire broke out near the corner of Broad and Middle streets this morning at one o'clock, which destroyed two squares located between Broad and Pollock streets from Middle street, burning about fifty buildings. The Times estimates the total loss at $200,000. The Commercial thinks it will reach $500,000, with less than $75,000 insurance. Much suffering will be caused by this disaster, and a public meeting to devise means for the relief of the sufferers will be held tomorrow. The fire was the work of incendiaries, for whose apprehension a large reward has been offered by the city authorities.

RAIRIE CHICKENS.—The prairie chickens were never more numerous than they are this year in this vicinity, and never before have been slaughtered in such numbers. Several hundred are sent daily from Corinth Station to Chicago, and about a ton a day reach that city on the Dixon train. It is probable that the absence of the hunting party in the army for the past four years has permitted the increase of this game, and it is an encouraging fact that we have more of this charming game now than when the country was first settled. As wheat fields multiply, so do the prairie chickens, and if our hunters will but observe the law forbidding their slaughter before the 15th of August, they will never be driven from the country as has been feared, but we shall always have an abundance.—*Standard, Ill. A Texan Judge concluded a sentence for murder as follows: "The fact is, Jones, that the Court did not intend to order you to be executed before next Spring, but the weather is very cold, and our jail, unfortunately, is in a very bad condition; much of the glass in the windows is broken; the chimneys are in such a dilapidated state that no fire can be made to render your apartments comfortable; besides, owing to the great number of prisoners, not more than one blanket can be allowed to each; to sleep sound and comfortable, therefore, it is out of the question. In consideration of these circumstances, and wishing to lessen your sufferings as much as possible, the Court, in the exercise of its humane compassion, hereby orders you to be executed to-morrow morning, as soon after breakfast as may be convenient to the Sheriff and agreeable to you."

SPREADING THE GOSPEL.—A correspondent sends us the following: "While a young minister was recently preaching a written discourse in Andover, the wind, entering through an open window, whirled the sermon off the desk and the most of it out of the opposite window, scattering it throughout the room. One going to his aid, the young Reverend was obliged to leave the desk and the pulpit, and hang up his flying sermon, which, with its re-arrangement, took about a quarter of an hour. This new way of spreading the gospel," as may be imagined, was anything but a serious matter to the congregation.—Laurene American.

Cool Thieves.—The Manchester Mirror tells the following amusing story of the barefaced conduct of log stealers in the town of Chester, N. H.: In one instance the thieves woke up a man in his own farm house, told him that one of their logs had got out of the wagon into the road and asked his assistance to put him back. The farmer got up, dressed himself, and readily complied, and the next morning, when he went to feed his hog, on looking into the pen found him asleep. He had assisted the thieves to steal his own porker. At another house the farmer heard a squealing in the road late at night, and going to the door saw a man struggling with a porker. The same story was repeated and assistance given as at the other house, and the same scene was enacted at the pen in the morning.

Another Careless Murder.—Last Sunday evening, in Cincinnati, a young man named Henry Brunning called on his sweetheart, a young lady named Ellinger. He picked up a gun, supposed it to be unloaded, pointed it at Miss Ellinger, and the next moment her brains were scattered all over the room. As soon as the young man realized the fearful tragedy, he rushed to the Ohio river and tried to drown himself, but was rescued and handed over to the police. This circumstance furnishes another reason why severe punishment should be meted out to all who carelessly and culpably handle firearms in the manner Brunning did. The act is to all intents and purposes murder.

Heavy Seizure.—Officer W. H. Rand, of Newport, yesterday made a seizure at St. Johnsbury, of several car loads of sheep, numbering over 1,100. They were the property of Campbell, Ruggles, Hastings, & Co., a firm doing an extensive business in this section in buying cattle and sheep. The trouble in this case was in accidentally forgetting the number of sheep they had, and reporting it at 700 instead of near 1,200, the actual number. Forgetfulness has ever been a fruitful source of trouble and perplexity.—In this case it seems to have led to some difficulty.—Newport Express.

A report received at the Freedmen's Bureau from North Carolina represents that the condition of the freedmen is generally favorable, and that there are at present but about two thousand five hundred dependents, notwithstanding that there is a colored population of nearly three hundred thousand.

A marriage ceremony between a negro and a white girl was to have taken place in Norfolk Va., on Sun day, but the intended bridegroom getting wind of the fact that some young men had made preparations to treat him to a coat of tar and cotton, failed to come to time.

The grasshoppers, which have devoured everything about Fort Kenton, are rapidly approaching the river, and may yet sweep over Missouri. A few days ago they appeared in clouds at Seneca, Kansas, five miles west of St. Joseph. It is said that they will average one hundred to every square foot of surface.

There is a girl in Jersey whose lips are so sweet that they stick together every morning by the honey they distill, and she cannot open her mouth until she has parted her lips with a silver knife. She will be a treasure to her husband, not only on account of her sweetness, but because she can occasionally keep her mouth shut.

Mr. L. Parsons of Rutland, recently found under the rafters of his house a package of bank bills of New Hampshire and New York banks, bearing date of 1841.

The report that an insane woman threw her infant into the furnace of a rolling mill at Mobile was a fabrication. There ain't a rolling mill within a hundred miles of Mobile.

Somebody lays down the theory that about one year in five is subject to the dry extreme, and one in ten to the wet extreme. The dry years are uniformly hot and the wet years cold. The present, then, should be a wet year in this section of the United States.

A boy of eighteen was recently executed at Manchester, England, for murder. He acknowledged his guilt to warn all young people of both sexes to be obedient to their parents, not to the Sabbath, the school and the bibles, and against all profanity and debauchery, and especially evil company, which he said was his ruin.

The American Telegraph Company have opened an office for business in the village of Conneautville, N. H.

In the two mile trotting race on the Fashion Course Sept. 13, between Quaker and Bull Run, the former won the stake of $5,000 easily; time, 5.22, 5.22.
